Dear Mr Armstrong,

Further to my visit to St John's School this morning we are writing to say a sincere thank you to everyone at the school who has contributed both to the items that have been collected and also to the very generous donation of €1,200 for Dabaso School, Watamu, Kenya.

We leave for Kenya on 18th January and if all our travel arrangements go according to plan we will arrive at our destination the following evening. The book which some of your students have made will travel in our hand luggage so we know that it will arrive safely with us. We have no doubt at all that when the students and teachers at Dabaso School see the book and indeed learn from us about all your donations they will be amazed and indeed very grateful.

We are really looking forward to our visit as it is the beginning of the new school year so there will be new children to meet. In addition we will see the work that has taken place on the classroom refurbishment programme during the Christmas holiday.

We return to Cyprus on 9th February after which we will contact you and hopefully arrange to visit St John's so that we can feedback to you all that has been achieved with the school's donation and of course Dabaso School students and teachers response to the book.

In the mean time we are providing on the next page a selection of photographs that were taken during our last visit in November.

On behalf of Dabaso School we wish you and everyone at St John's School a very happy and successful 2010.

Best wishes,

Graham and Ann Lawrence

Older children a few days before their examinations which will hopefully lead them to Secondary School

Children with special needs who had just received a toothbrush and toothpaste and were very excited with their presents. They will directly benefit from the bottle tops which will be used as counters. It is a tremendous step forward for these children to be attending school
